Major Battle on Integration Is Due in State

By SY RAMSEY

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dedicated segregationists, who have watched "creeping" integration turn into a gallop in Arkansas, are determined to wage a major battle over the issue.

The main arena will be here, where the school board has announced that gradual integration will begin next fall on the high school level and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has withdrawn its earlier legal demand for full and immediate integration.

Recent newspaper advertisements of the Capital Citizens Council refer to the "black plague of race mixing" and urge readers to "disrupt vile schemes" of a "small coterie of white and Negro revolutionaries." A constant target is Sept. 19, 1958.

The phrase of the segregationists is "segregation now," and this week a radio minister from Texas Citizens Council here.

The Rev. J. A. Lovell of Dallas advocated "bloodshed if necessary" to prevent racial integration. Some 250 listeners burst into the loudest applause of the evening.

The pastor's call to violence has an ominous ring, but Amis Guthrie, legal counsel for the organization, said that the organization is not planning any violence, and that a physical showdown is in the cards.

In three years of Citizens Council activity, Guthrie said, "there has not been a single act of violence."

Saeler Family Rites Monday in Texarkana

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. William Saeler and their 12-year-old son Samuel Walter will arrive in Texarkana Saturday night and the funeral will be held at 10 a. m. Monday at First Baptist Church, Texarkana. Funeral home announced today.

The Saeler family was killed in a collision of their car with a loaded hay truck near Glenns Ferry, Idaho, on U. S. Highway 30 last Tuesday. They were en route to Oregon and California on vacation.

Editor The Star: A few days ago the Boy Scouts from Texarkana and surrounding area came through on their way to Valley Forge to the Boy Scout Jamboree. We had the boys to meet us at the Capitol and take pictures with the Dome in the background. I am enclosing herewith a glossy print of the picture taken of the boys from Arkansas, with the leaders and myself. In view of the fact these boys come from Texarkana, Nashville, DeQueen, Hope, Ashdown, Prescott, Bradley and perhaps other places, I thought you would like to use it in your paper.

These fine boys had a very interesting experience here. We carried them in the House Chamber, and explained the working and procedure of the House of Representatives. This was early in the morning when the House of course was not in session. We let each one of them sit in the Speaker's Chair and have the privilege of looking over the House Chamber. Then we arranged for a tour through the Capitol. It is an educational experience that will be very helpful to them in the course of their school work and most interesting to them in becoming good citizens. With kindest regards,

14 Counties Can't Qualify for Flood Aid

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fourteen Arkansas counties have told the state Disaster Relief Committee that they are unable to qualify for federal flood damage help under the Agricultural Conservation program.

The committee asked for such reports last week and a number of counties still had not reported yesterday.

The 14 counties reporting themselves ineligible for the aid are Ashley, Bradley, Drew, Garland, Howard, Izard, Lonoke, Monroe, Montgomery, Pike, Polk, St. Francis, Sevier and Union.

It is an Agriculture Department policy to provide such disaster help when problems come up that are beyond the scope of individual farmers and the regular conservation program.

Department officials at Little Rock think it will take several days for reports to arrive from counties that believe they are eligible for aid.

Clyde P. Liebman, secretary of the Disaster Committee, said the state Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee would meet July 25 and probably would set a date for consideration of the reports.

Both the committee and the Agriculture Department must give approval. Deadline for submitting reports is July 22.

The committee estimated that damage from Arkansas' spring and summer floods would cut the small grain harvest in half and would cause a 20 per cent drop in the hay crop harvest.

Conditions in Mississippi, Clay and Green counties were the worst, the committee said. All three have been approved for emergency long-term credit from the Agriculture Department.

Concessions to South Increase on Civil Rights

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Additional concessions to Southern forces of the administration's civil rights bill were in the making today.

Senate Republican leader Knowland of California said he was consulting with spokesmen for Northern Democrats in an effort to reach agreement on an amendment to the part of the bill that has drawn the heaviest Southern attacks.

He told newsmen he hoped a specific proposal could be presented at a closed-door conference of all Republican senators, the second such meeting called in as many days to discuss the House-passed measure.

He declined to discuss how far supporters of the bill might be willing to go in meeting Southern protests against Section 3. Under that section, the attorney general could obtain Federal Court injunctions for the enforcement of civil rights in general.

But Knowland said that if "an area of agreement" were found among Republicans and Northern Democrats, he might offer an amendment in the Senate later in the day.

One amendment to Section 3 already has been put forward by Knowland and Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.). It would repeal a reconstruction era law which permits the President to employ troops to enforce court orders in civil rights cases.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the Dixie forces, said yesterday he was "grateful" for this amendment, but he told the Senate it failed to "remove the objection that this is a force bill—a force bill of the worst kind."

He said it still would permit the attorney general to use "all the might" of the federal government except troops to force school integration and other "commingling" of the races on the South.

Senators Anderson (D-NM) and Alben (R-Vt.) have offered an amendment to strike Section 3 from the bill altogether, but Knowland's and Humphrey's amendment to repeal the old troop law will be voted on first.

Another revision under discussion would require a request from local authorities before the attorney general could seek injunctions to back up the Supreme Court's school integration decision.

Some senators reportedly felt, however, that the attorney general should be allowed leeway to act in cases where local school officials were taking steps to comply with the Supreme Court ruling but might be reluctant to ask for his help because of community pressures.

Modifications of Section 3 are designed to dampen sentiment for eliminating it. It's removal would limit the bill largely to a measure for the protection of voting rights.

Authority for the attorney general to obtain injunctions against violations of voting rights is provided.

Disclosure of Marriage Puts Miss U. S. A. Out

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP) — Miss United States—Leona Cagle, of Maryland—admitted today she is married and the other two sons, and officials of the Miss Universe contest announced there would be no Miss U.S.A. in tonight's finals.

With the disqualification of Miss Cagle the judges named Miss Utah—Charlotte Sheffield of Salt Lake City—as Miss U.S.A.

Miss Sheffield, a member of a pioneer Mormon family, will receive all the premiums and rewards that go with the title. However, she will not be among the 15 finalists.

Contest officials said the runner-up in last night's semi-finals would become the 15th contestant. The name of the finalist was not revealed immediately because it appeared to the judges there was multiple tie for the 15th position last night.

After a mid-morning meeting contest officials announced that Miss Argentina, Monica Lamas, 21, of Buenos Aires, was named the 15th contestant in tonight's finals.

The lovely Miss Utah, whose father is a state legislator, was jubilant this morning. She said she felt "terribly sorry about Leona" whom she thought was a "very fine representative of the United States."

I'm flabbergasted. It is very wonderful to wake up in the morning and be told that you are Miss U. S. A.," she smiled.

Miss Alaska, Martha Lehmann, 18, of Fairbanks, becomes the lone representative connected with the United States although she is considered a "foreign" entrant by

Heat Wave Covers Most of the Nation

By The Associated Press

A midsummer hot spell in most of the central and southern sections of the country showed no indication of a general breakup today.

Showers brought temporary relief from the hot weather in some parts of the swelter belt yesterday as temperatures again climbed into the 90-100 plus range. The season's highest readings were reported in some of the central states with marks of 100 and higher from Texas to South Dakota and Iowa.

The cool air over the Northern Plains edged eastward into the Dakotas, western Nebraska and Colorado during the night, dropping temperatures into the 80s, about 10 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier.

But a warming trend was reported ahead of the cool air, with temperatures in the 70s in the Great Lakes region, a rise of 10 degrees over yesterday morning.

Little temperature change was reported in other parts of the country. Readings were in the 70s again in New England, the far Northwest and along the Pacific coast.

Southern areas reported 70s and 80s, with the 90s the rule in most of the southwest desert region.

Clear skies were indicated in the Pacific Coast state and from the eastern Great Lakes region through most of the central and northern Atlantic Coast states.

Hal Boyle Says Bald-Headed Men Can't Split Hairs; It's Simply a Matter of Thrift

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Payson Proverbs for the man in the street:

Bald men deserve no particular credit for going through life without splitting hairs. With them it's simply a matter of thrift.

Security is the feeling a man with a steady job gets after talking to someone who has relied on a pension.

The most you can do for a friend is the least you can do for yourself.

Those who walk only in another's footsteps run the risk of tumbling into another's grave.

If you can't build a bridge, build a footpath leading to one.

Many a man gets credit for being pushy when all he had was pull.

A man too small to laugh at himself usually also isn't big enough to feel sorry for anyone else.

One of the greatest arguments against a shorter work week is that it will force people to worry more on their own time.

Billion and a Half Surplus for Government

WASHINGTON (AP) — A surplus of $1,645,000,000 was recorded by the federal government for the fiscal year which ended June 30.

The Treasury and the Budget Bureau reported the amount today. The balance for fiscal 1957 was the second successive black ink showing. A third balanced budget recommended by President Eisenhower now is pending before congress.

The statement issued by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Director Forrester Brundage of the Budget Bureau showed federal receipts of $70,089,000,000 and expenditures of $68,444,000,000 for the 12 months ending June 30.

Expenditures were 444 million dollars higher than were estimated in January when the fiscal year was half over, while receipts were 361 million dollars higher than the January estimate.

The public debt at the end of the bookkeeping year was $270,634,309,846, a reduction of $2,190,332,278 from the level a year earlier.

The statement said the increase in outlays was "mainly due to larger expenditures for the Department of Defense which were not fully offset by lower expenditures in other departments."

In fiscal 1956 the government had a deficit of $4,200,000,000. Budgeted by rapidly rising tax collections, receipts exceeded spending in the following year, fiscal 1956, by $1,000,000,000, or approximately the same size surplus as was reported for the year which ended June 30.

The budget, which Eisenhower sent to Congress in January, covering fiscal 1958, calls for spending totaling $71,800,000,000 and receipts of $73,000,000,000, for an anticipated surplus of 1,200,000,000.

Scramble for Uranium Ore Claims Is on NUCIA, Colo. (AP) — Law officers took positions in full view today of more than 400 uranium prospectors, armed and eager to dash for possession tomorrow of nearly 100,000 acres of land.

Their claims to the land, being returned to public domain by the Atomic Energy Commission after nine years' exploration, can be filed after 10 a. m. It's the largest land opening in Colorado history.

The rocky terrain in southwestern Colorado is barren and thick with sagebrush but high-grade uranium ore deposits have been reported in varying amounts.

Although the AEC has drilled without success in several areas, Chamber of Commerce Manager Ed Nelson said, "there are reports of some good stuff out there."

The big majority of prospectors were well equipped, Deputy Sheriff J. J. Frank said, with geiger counters, drilling rigs and trucks. He said many also took six-guns.

Frank said they've been fairly orderly, and there's no law against them carrying guns — unless the weapons are concealed or they try to use them.

The rules call for every truck, jeep or car to race off together at 10 a. m. No claims can exceed 600 by 1,500 feet.

Warned to Obtain Licensing Papers

Mrs. Kathryn Jones of the State Revenue office in the courthouse has asked that all persons who do not have the necessary papers for their truck and trailer license report to the Revenue office as soon as possible. The deadline for acquiring license is August 1, and there will be no extension to anyone.

House Listens to Ike's Plea, Restores Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House handed President Eisenhower a preliminary victory today by voting 173-154 to restore 300 million dollars to his foreign aid program. But new moves for cuts shaped up.

The teller vote on the 300-million-dollar item started a showdown session as House leaders sought to pass the multibillion-dollar aid authorization bill by nightfall.

The action, still subject to a later rollcall, overturned a tentative 100-100 House vote Wednesday to slash to 500 million the economic aid fund Eisenhower wants to support defense programs of American allies.

It restored the defense support fund to 400 million dollars, the amount voted by the Senate and just 100 millions shy of Eisenhower's original request. Eisenhower said Wednesday the 300-million figure is so low as to be "a threat to our nation's security and the rest of the free world."

But critics of the aid bill planned to try to cut back again on the defense support fund, and to chop other parts of the big overseas assistance program.

The House took up the bill where it left off Wednesday, having recessed yesterday without transacting any business because of the death of Rep. Bowler (D-Ill.).

At the start of the day, the bill carried $3,042,333,000 to aid other countries in the fiscal year which started today. That is $302,300,000 less than Eisenhower asked.

Extra Wide Trailers Permitted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Trailers 10 feet wide may enter Arkansas from other states and move on their own wheels along Arkansas highways now — if they are towed by trucks.

The State Highway Commission yesterday decided to permit movement of such trailers manufactured outside Arkansas and sent to a purchaser.

It was only recently that the commission permitted 10-foot trailers made in Arkansas to be towed out of the state. Formerly, any trailer wider than eight feet moved on a truck or not at all.

Koran Chant as Rites Near for Aga Khan

By ANTOINE YARED

ASWAN, Egypt (AP) — Three sheikhs chanted the Koran beside the white alt coffin containing the body of Aga Khan III as the hour neared for the funeral today of the Ismaili sect's leader for 71 years.

Nearly 500 members of the Aga's flock of 20 million, wearing the costumes of many lands, were on hand to pay final respects.

Burial was to be in a temporary red brick tomb in the courtyard of the villa overlooking the Nile which the Aga built after his honeymoon here in 1944 with his fourth wife, the surviving Begum. After that first visit the Aga grew to love this lush green valley 500 miles upriver from Cairo, and specified in his will his desire to be buried here.

A mausoleum will be built later atop a hill 200 yards from the villa, which the Aga named Nour El Sallam—light of peace. It is on the west bank of the Nile, across from Aswan.

The body was flown yesterday from Switzerland, where the Aga died eight days ago at the age of 79. The beautiful French Begum and the new Aga Khan IV—the old man's 30-year-old grandson—led the members of the family to Aswan.

In a room of the villa where she and the Aga had spent so many happy winters, the Begum spent the hours before the funeral with three ladies in waiting.

Other members of the family stayed in the Cataract Hotel, opened in the off-tourist season for the funeral.

Confession of Convict Reopens Sheppard Case

By H. L. STEVENSON

DELAND, Fla. (UP) — The celebrated 1954 Sheppard murder case was reopened today on the basis of a "confession" by a Florida convict that he slugged a Cleveland, Ohio, woman the night Marilyn Sheppard was slain.

Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill announced in Columbus that Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, now serving a life term in for his wife's murder, will undergo a lie detector test.

Sheppard would not consent to a lie test in early stages of the murder case but later asked for one. He was denied the test at that time.

O'Neill told his news conference that he is "considering" evidence presented to him concerning the story told by Deland by Joseph Wedler, a blond, bushy-haired prisoner who said he wanted to "get a murder off my mind."

Until today Wedler's story had been accepted as just another yarn — 25th in the number of "confessions" that have come out of the Sheppard case.

The Ohio governor said he is granting Sheppard's request for a lie detector test concerning the murder of his wife. Sheppard has maintained his innocent throughout, claiming Marilyn was killed by a bushy-haired intruder.

O'Neill said he authorized the test on Dr. Sam at the request of the prisoner and his attorney, Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert.

Private investigators meanwhile were working here trying to determine whether Wedler is telling the truth or spun the story in an effort to win publicity or freedom.

Until today Cleveland authorities took a very skeptical attitude toward Wedler.

Ohio Attorney General William Saxbe also announced that his office is studying legal questions involved in the new break. Whether Dr. Sam could get a new trial on the basis of the developments was the question pondered by legal authorities. An assistant Ohio attorney general thought that "quite possible."

Cleveland police called off their announced plans to send a list of questions to Florida authorities to put to Wedler. Assistant Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) Prosecutor Saul Dancausa said "more developments would have to take place" before Cleveland police take direct action in the case.

Wedler, 23, has told Deland authorities that he clubbed a Cleveland woman to death about the time Mrs. Sheppard was slain; in her fashionable Bay Village home, Cleveland authorities immediately expressed doubt because Wedler was the 25th person to confess the slaying. Each confession prior to Wedler's was checked out and provided to be a hoax or the product of an unbalanced mind.

But a lie detector expert who questioned Wedler extensively with a polygraph in Deland said he believes that Wedler may be telling the truth.

The Polygraph expert, Alex Gregory, said last night Wedler "is either telling the truth or what he believes to be the truth about the murder of Marilyn Sheppard."

Gregory's findings prompted Ohio Lt. Gov. Paul Herbert, who was co-defense counsel for Dr. Sam, as Sheppard is known, to indicate a new trial may be asked.

Herbert said action would be taken if Wedler can be more concretely connected with the slaying. He already has advised Sheppard's family to consider filing murder charges against Wedler. Sheppard has denied emphatically that he killed his wife but based his defense on the claim that a bushy-haired man murdered her and injured him in a scuffle.

Wedler willingly submitted to the lie tests, but declined a news interview.

Gregory is a polygraph expert for detective fiction writer. Eric

Stanley Gardner's so-called "court of last resort" which specializes in cases in which innocent suspects may have been convicted.

Sheriff Rodney B. Thursby of Volusia County said he has been marking time until he receives from Cleveland authorities a promised list of questions intended to clear up discrepancies between Wedler's confession and known facts of the sensational slaying.

"I haven't heard a thing from them," Thursby said. "I think it would be a good idea if they would send us some questions. I'm still hopeful."

Gregory declined to discuss the questions he fired at the calm youth, who claimed he had slain a woman three years ago while burglarizing a fashionable suburban Cleveland home.

Gregory said he questioned Wedler specifically about the Sheppard murder for the first time at yesterday's four-hour session.

Only Gregory and Wedler were in the room where the examination took place. One of the life detector operator's friends reported the convict had been asked directly: "Do you think you killed Marilyn Sheppard?"

"The friend reported that Wedler replied: 'Yes.'"

Herbert said an affidavit charging Wedler with the crime "would have to be backed up by documented information."

Gardner, who telegraphed Ohio better from their viewpoint than a tough one.

Northern Democrats who help get some kind of civil rights bill can claim some credit among Northern Negroes for their part in it.

Yet, because of the Southern opposition, Democrats as a party can hardly claim much when it was the Republicans who led the fight.

Even a watered-down bill would be a victory for the Negroes—not as much as they hoped for, but still a victory. It would be the first time in this century that a civil rights bill passed the Senate.

Hitherto, Southern Democrats have always been able to block it.

Even a weakened civil rights bill, if it helped more Negroes vote, would be an encouragement to them next year to put pressure on Republicans—and Northern Democrats to pass a stiffer one, once the Southern wall had been broken.

The hysterical 21-year-old from Glen Burnie, Md., who previously denied rumors that she was married was placed under a physician's care and given sedatives. A police officer was stationed at her hotel door.

Miss Gage was selected Miss United States Wednesday night. Miss Gage survived last night's judging which pared the field to 15 finalists from whom Miss Universe will be chosen tonight.

Oscar Melchard, pageant director, told Miss Gage who is really Leona Ennis, wife of Air Force Sgt. G. N. Ennis—would remain in seclusion as long as she wished. "After all, she's a young kid," he said. "Often a girl is urged and pushed into these things. It seems like a small lie at the beginning. We think she's a pretty wonderful girl and will protect her seclusion as long as she wishes."

The rumors about Miss Gage's being married originated in Baltimore. Sgt. Ennis later admitted he and the winner were married in Vernon, Tex., Feb. 3, 1953. Their sons are 1 and 3 years old. Miss Gage denied the rumors at first and broke into tears when confronted with them.

Twice last night Miss Maryland—21-year-old Leona Gage—burst into tears when newsmen questioned her about her marital status.

The tall slender Miss U. S. A. winner emphatically denied rumors reaching the pageant from Baltimore that she was married. Newsmen, photographers and television cameramen closed in on the dark-haired Glen Burnie girl the moment last night's pageant—the semi-final—began.

The holder of the post would work with local groups on the grass roots level to push for a stronger Democratic organization.

Herb Score Is Optimistic on First Tryout

CLEVELAND, Ohio, (UP) — Herb Score felt much better today about his return to active pitching duty with the Cleveland Indians.
Score worked out yesterday for the first time in two months, since being hit in the eye by a line drive during a game with the New York Yankees.
Score said he did much better than he expected after pitching a few half-speed fast balls and swinging at pitches served up by Manager Kerby Farrall.
"The first few times I caught the ball it looked a little fuzzy," the southpaw said. "Later on, it was all right."

DOROTHY DIX

Eager Beaver Is Frightening Gal

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm in love with a girl I've known for six months. Everything was going smoothly until I proposed. She said she didn't want to get serious; that we were both too young. She broke off, and though I've certainly tried to get in touch with her,
she won't see me.
Friends say she still cares for me. As she is 18 and I'm 21, I don't feel we're too young to marry. I know he's the only girl for me. Can you offer any encouragement? — MONTY
Dear Monty: Your girl was frightened away by your impetuosity.
Offer to be more patient. If she date you again, Promise to shelve the question of marriage until she agrees that the right age has caught up with you both. More than this you can't do.
Dear Dorothy Dix: Three years ago my wife left me for another man, we were divorced, and I have custody of the children — 10, 8 and 4. We've been living with my mother, my wife has never seen or inquired about the children, and I have not a lovely woman whom I would like to marry. She's my own age, mature, capable and will be,
I know an excellent mother for the children. Should I let them call her mother? — HANK
Dear Hank: "Mother" is more than a title; it's a way of life.
Anyone who serves in the capacity is entitled to the name.
Dear Dorothy Dix: My fiancé and I can't decide who should give into whom. He lives in the country, claims he can't work or be happy anywhere else, while I am a city girl. I hate farm life and he feels the same way about city living. — UNDECIDED Dear Undecided: A husband's role is to earn the family's bread, a wife's is to rear the children.
Your fiancé should elect the place where he can best do his job.
Yours can be done in either city or country.
Dear Dorothy Dix: During the 19 years of our marriage, I left home 14 times. My wife has always supported the children and now has a flourishing business of her own.
I think a husband should be the chief concern of a woman. She thinks the kinds come first. I want to go back to her now, but she says she doesn't need a husband —
JERRY T.
Dear Jerry: Didn't the question of a husband and father's responsibility ever come up? He has one, you know. Your wife evidently got thoroughly sick and tired of your disappearing act. After 19 hectic years, she's entitled to a little peace. Leave her alone.
Dear Dorothy Dix: Before our marriage we dated five nights a week. Now we never go out together, but he's gone every night. I don't like this kind of married life.
— FRANCES
Dear Frances: Get a job, look up

Faltering Braves Out Front Again

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Note to those pirate Milwaukee fans who booed Fred Haney in effigy the other day:

It's okay, fellas, you can cut him down now.

The suddenly steamed-up Braves, winners in six of their last eight games, are a full game ahead of the National League pack today so that should make everything humky-dory with all Milwaukee burghers right now.

Some of them were fit to be tied, though, after the Dodgers massacred the Braves, 20-4, last Monday night. That's when they strung up the little Milwaukee manager in effigy.

All was forgiven - temporarily, anyway - when the Braves defeated the Phillies, 4-2, last night. Catcher Del Rice got Haney off the hook, or more technically off the limb, when he drove in three of Milwaukee's runs with a home run and a single.

Bob Buhl went 3-two-thirds in his 10th victory, with rookie Don McMahon coming in to strike out Harry Anderson for the final out. Curt Simmons was the loser.

Brooklyn remained 1 1/2 games off the pace by beating St. Louis, 10-9, in an 11-inning contest, while Cincinnati nipped the Giants, 2-1, and Pittsburgh defeated Chicago, 6-3.

The Yankees opened up a five-game lead in the American league, their biggest margin of the year, with a 3-2 victory over Detroit, as Baltimore rallied for five runs in the ninth to lick the second-place White Sox, 6-2. Boston beat Kansas City, 8-1, and Washington blanked Cleveland, 4-0.

Gil Hodges' 12th grand slam homer of his career was the highlight of the Dodgers' victory. That blow tied him with Ralph Kiner and Rogers Hornsby for the all-time National League leadership and it came in the last of the ninth to tie the score after St. Louis had pushed across seven runs in the top of the inning.

Duke Snider, who homered in the third inning, doubled in the 11th and scored the winning run on Ed Kaska's error. Roger Craig was the winner.

Gus Bell provided Cincinnati with enough runs to win when he hit a two-run homer off Stu Miller in the third inning.

The Pirates won their game from the Cubs with a four-run rally in the ninth. Bill Mazeroski's infield single with the bases loaded scored Dick Groat with the winning run. Ernie Banks and Chuck Tanner each hit inside-the-park homers for the Cubs. Reliever Luis Arroyo was the winning pitcher.

Southpaw Billy Hoelt of the Tigers was working on a 2-0 lead when he ran a foul of a three-run rally by the Yanks in the eighth. With two out Jerry Coleman singled and Mickey Mantle walked. Yogi Berra then singled for one run and Hank Bauer doubled for two more.

Billy Goodman's pinch single with the bases loaded, good for two runs, was the big blow in Baltimore's ninth inning assault against lefty Jack Harshman of the White Sox.

A pair of errors by Kansas City Third Baseman Hector Lopez earned runs in their victory over the A's. Tom Brewer hurled a five-hitter for his 11th win.

LAKE CATHERINE - Clear; bass and bream fair on artificial bait, worms and crickets.

Cairo Pascual of the Senators pitched no-hit ball until Russ Nixon, singled in the seventh inning and although the Indians collected two more singles, the Cuban right-hander had little trouble registering his seventh victory.

Giants Sure to Abandon Polo Grounds

NEW YORK (N) - New York Giants President Horace Stoneham said it on the line yesterday, announcing he will recommend to his board of directors that the Giants quit the Polo Grounds at the end of the season. He indicated there is very little chance of the club finding another ball yard in New York.

Stoneham also made it clear that the Giants already have league permission to transfer their franchise, even if the Brooklyn Dodgers choose to stay behind.

League Permission for the Giants to switch to San Francisco and the Dodgers to move to Los Angeles - when the two clubs decided to do so - was thought to be a package deal, with one move bringing on the other.

"That is not true," said Stoneham. "They are two separate deals, one not contingent upon the other. We were given permission to move irrespective of what the Dodgers do, but that pertained only to our moving to San Francisco."

"Should the Giants desire to move to Minneapolis, for instance, we would have to seek league permission all over again."

Stoneham, regretting a move from New York, said the club "would be stupid to stay" here from a money viewpoint. "I don't think New York can support three clubs," he said, "and I'm not sure it can support two. From what I've been given to understand, the city of New York is bankrupt."

For God

Here men give evidence of some deep, deep decisions. They are casting their lots for God. In a heart-to-heart talk a father gives his witness for the deepest faith he possesses. He has been successful in business because he kept the approval of his God. Now he wants to know from his sons if he can count on them to perpetuate the integrity, justice and godliness which marked the history of his business. God wants to know that of you, too, Mister. This is a moment of high decision with these men. Maybe you are making important decisions too. One thing for sure... your success will be greater when God is your Senior Partner. If you are "For God" you will attend His church and support His cause on earth... be For God.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCHGOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Sunday School Lesson

By WILLIAM E. Gilroy, D. D.

Every nation and people have their heroes. Often they are legendary figures with faint emergence into history, like King Arthur and his Round Table knights of ancient Britain.

In later arrivals on the historic scene, such as the United States and Canada, a formidable array of heroes marks two centuries.

And special distinction at present is accorded the heroes of Plymouth as the Mayflower II is prepared for a permanent place on the Plymouth waterfront of today, after a prior showing in New York.

This building and sailing of Mayflower II is a laudable enterprise, but one wonders just how much it has to do with that band of 102 souls who voyaged and landed in a different way.

Only half of the original Pilgrims survived the first winter, though not one went back when they had a chance to return to the England whence they had come. No, not one went back!

Those Pilgrims were spiritual heroes. Pilgrims of faith and freedom. They were building better than they realized in this new world, but their significance was spiritual.

It is doubtful in all the present bullhoo how much of the spiritual significance is being realized or regained.

We could do with a great new baptism of that Pilgrim spirit for the Plymouth Pilgrims, in contrast with the Puritans, who came a little later to Massachusetts Bay, represented a freedom and tolerance, a pure flame of Independency which Puritanism lacked.

But I disgress. I set out to remark upon how fortunate and blessed the Jews have been in the matter of racial, national, and religious heroes. Their heroes are enshrined in the Bible the world's best seller in an age of best-selling books. I say "the Bible," for the heroes of Israel are not all in the Old Testament; the heroes of the New Testament were also Jews.
